

Cox Radio-Tulsa provides local radio:

Local News:

Cox Radio-Tulsa, provides Northeastern Oklahomans with fair, balanced and accurate reporting of the news. We employ one of the largest radio news operations in the state with trained professionals who seek out, write and deliver award winning newscasts. Cox Station, KRMG-AM offers hourly newscasts 24-hours a day, 7-days a week, while many of our FM operations offer timely updates during the morning commute.

Local Public Affairs:

Cox Radio-Tulsa routinely takes the pulse of the community. We gather information on the biggest problems and concerns facing our cities of license. Programming is then drafted and presented addressing those concerns. Each station generates its own 60-minute public affairs program that examines the issues. For example, Cox station KRTQ-FM is licensed to Sand Springs, Oklahoma. The program "Sand Springs Weekly" focuses on the concerns of Sand Springs residents, including segments from Sand Springs educators, law enforcement, public works and economic development leaders.

Emergency Programming:

When major local news happens, Cox Radio-Tulsa provides our half-million listeners with the latest information. Whether it's a chemical plant explosion or a major storm blowing through town, everything stops to provide information. If it is a major national story, Cox Radio-Tulsa uses affiliations with ABC, Westwood One, and the Associated Press Radio Network to keep listeners informed.

Political Programming:

Cox-Radio-Tulsa provides political candidates access to the public through commercial time, news broadcasts and interview programs. We provide live debates with local candidates seeking public office on KRMG. Those debates are later replayed on the FM stations for maximum exposure. The Presidential debates, State of the Union and State of the State addresses are also carried live on KRMG.

Public Service Announcements:

Cox-Radio-Tulsa provides non-profit organizations numerous ways to reach our audience free of charge. Rather than wait on agencies to request time, company employees target different agencies each quarter. The needs of the organization are reviewed and a public service campaign is drafted and implemented. Cox Radio-Tulsa also works with organizations for major fund raising efforts such as Operation Aware, The Tulsa Area United Way, The Tulsa Community Food Bank, Salvation Army and the local American Red Cross Chapter.

Cox Radio-Tulsa strives to be a mirror, held up to our community, reflecting the needs, wants, desires and hopes of our listeners.
